KILLED AT SHARON.

White-Haired Albert Keyes Falls Under Engine Wheels.

WAGON GIVES WAY BENEATH HIM.

Vehicle and Driver Borne on the Pilot for a Rod, but the Boards Fall Apart and the Old Man Is Thrown Under the Wheels.

SHARON, June 12.—Albert Keyes, an early settler, was killed by the north-bound freight while attempting to cross at Martin street. Mr. Keyes' horse was about between the tracks when struck by the pilot engine, and horse, wagon and driver were carried a rod or so. Then the wagon began to break up and Mr. Keyes fell under the engine which knocked him off into the gutter by the cattle guard. An examination showed a terrible scalp wound, a deep gash in the right thigh and the leg broken between the knee and ankle.

The horse was carried about one hundred feet from the crossing on the pilot, where it finally fell to the south side of the track with its right fore leg broken, the horse protruding through the flesh and skin. It had to be killed where it lay. The harness is scattered along the track and the running gears of the wagon, its bed and broken timbers lay near the cattle guard completely wrecked.

Temperance Advocates to Hold a Big Meeting on Staten Island.

NEW YORK, June 12.—From the 4th of July next to August 16 the National prohibition park at Port Richmond, on Staten Island, will be open for lectures, speeches, songs and other similar matters in aid of the haters of saloons. The intention is to make the gathering a national affair in every sense of the word. Roger Q. Mills, John J. Ingalls, J. P. St. John and many others of continental reputation will be among the speakers. It will be a remarkable series of meetings and the greatest concerted effort yet made in an educational way by the temperance cause. It begins the first season of the National School of Methods for Reformers. Work of a general reformatory nature will also be done. The international medical congress holds its meeting in the park on July 15 and 16, when N. S. Davis, M. D., of this city, will preside and deliver the introductory address. The Woman's Christian Temperance union will meet there on July 24, remaining in session three days. From August 7 to 10 the national prohibition party will be in conference with the Farmers' Alliance and other labor people. The auditorium on the grounds will have a seating capacity of 4,000.

MANY STARVING TO DEATH.

Great Suffering Reported Among the Foreign Population in the Argentine Republic.

SOUTHAMPTON, June 12.—Over 300 families have arrived here by steamers from Buenos Ayres, having been forced to leave in consequence of the stoppage of work there and the lack of money. Nearly all are entirely destitute, and the Southampton authorities were obliged to provide them with food and other necessities. There are many Irish families among them, who were in special need of relief. Some of them report a distressing state of affairs in the Argentine republic owing to the recent financial disturbances. The foreign population, large numbers of whom emigrated there on glowing promises of highly-paid labor, are said to be in some cases actually dying of starvation, as they are practically shut out from all work and can earn no money either to sustain themselves or to enable them to leave the country.

Two Children Burned to Death.

TOLEDO, O., June 12.—A special to the Bee from Fostoria, O., states that at 2 o'clock p. m. Friday fire was discovered in a barn in the rear of the residences of William Stewart and John Stewart, and before help arrived the two children of the first-named gentleman were burned to death. The children were playing with matches and some of them lighting, started the fire. One of the little ones was burned to a crisp, while the limbs of the other were completely destroyed by the flames.

SMALL BOY, BUT VERY TOUGH.

A Nine Year Old Milwaukee Youngster Held for Arson.

MILWAUKEE, June 12.—Matthew Grage, a boy of nine years, was arrested by Sheriff Walsh, charged with grand larceny and arson. Yesterday the barn of Henry Ott went up in smoke. As the boy was seen to emerge from it just before the flames were noticed suspicion was directed against him. The boy is also accused of having stolen a gold watch, a large velocipede and various sums of money.

THEY WANT BLAINE.

Important Political Conference at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 12.—A secret political conference of some significance was held in Indianapolis Thursday, and so well was it managed that not until Friday did the real character of the conference become known. The participants were men of prominence in politics, and they were brought together by a call issued about a month ago. Most of them are known as Gresham men. Among those who were present were: Gen. James McSulta, of Chicago, one of the strong adherents of Judge Gresham; Col. A. L. Conger, of Akron, O., a member of the national republican committee, and a Blaine man; Congressman Burrows, of Michigan, a follower of Alger; James O. Bradley, of Kentucky; three Detroit men, who are close to Alger and hard workers for him, but who managed to conceal their identity; Charles W. Fairbanks, of this city, who has all along been one of Judge Gresham's chief supporters; Judge Fields, the only Indiana delegate to the last national convention who refused to vote for Harrison; M. W. Simons, of Portsmouth, the Indiana delegate to the same convention who voted first for Harrison and then went over to Gresham. There were also Addison C. Harris, of this city; C. B. Landis, of Delphi; G. W. Wilson, of Fort Wayne; A. A. Purman, of Fort Wayne; Charles A. Bookwalter, of Fort Wayne, and Austin Krumler, of Lafayette.

Among those present were the editors or authorized representatives of the Evansville Journal, Delphi Journal, Marion Chronicle, Terre Haute Express, Fort Wayne Gazette, Logansport Journal, South Bend Tribune, Renaissance Republican, Michigan City News, Steubenville Republican. There was a settled agreement to make a strong fight against Harrison's renomination. The conference expressed a determination to oppose Harrison in the convention, but about all that he nominated. The conference was in the interest of the nomination of Blaine, the purpose being to at once inaugurate a movement in support of him. In an interview Col. Conger said that it was the desire of the participants to keep their move secret, if possible, but, since some information regarding it had leaked out, he was not disposed to conceal the facts. He said frankly that the purpose was to organize the republican friends of Mr. Blaine in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Michigan and Kansas in support of his nomination for the presidency. "It was also determined to hold another and fuller conference, but the time and place were kept a profound secret. "It is simply our purpose," he said, "to do all that we can from now until the national convention is held to secure his nomination, and I am confident that we will succeed."

"But will Mr. Blaine accept a presidential nomination in 1892, after having so positively declined it in 1888?" was asked.

The answer to the question was given with deliberation. "I am not authorized to speak for Mr. Blaine," said Mr. Conger, "but I can give the assurance that there will be no embarrassing letters such as appeared three years ago to paralyze the efforts of his friends."

COLLAPSE OF A BIG FIRM.

The London & Liverpool Clothing Company Falls.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A series of unfortunate complications and continued bad business caused the assignment of two of the largest retail clothing houses in the city. They are the London & Liverpool Clothing Company, at Bovey and Hester street, and Mack & Co., at Nos. 463 and 467 Broadway. Both concerns, although apparently under separate management, were owned and controlled by Isidor Rosenheim and Isaac S. Mack. Their liabilities are estimated at about $250,000 and the assets at from $175,000 to $200,000, most of which consist of merchandise on hand. The firm will probably be able to settle with their creditors on a basis of seventy-five cents on a dollar.

FATAL ELECTRICAL STORM IN NEW JERSEY.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Tidings of a severe electrical storm along the New Jersey coast Friday afternoon are received here. At Cape May electric fluid struck the lighthouse tower, burning a small hole in the dome and passing down the cottage connected with the tower, destroying a feather bed and painfully burning one foot of the son of the assistant keeper. At Hammononton Daniel Cross and two of his children were killed by the lightning. He leaves a wife and three children.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 12.—A negro woman 130 years old died here Friday. Her name was Cloe Ouden. She was a native of North Carolina, slave born, and came into the world in 1771. Her first child, who was born in 1797, was at her bedside when she died. For six years she had been confined to her bed and for many years she had had little use of her faculties. Her death resulted from debility.

BIG MADISON FIRE.

The State University Gymnasium Burned This Morning.

TRAMPS ARE HELD RESPONSIBLE.

Several Were Ejected by Watchmen, and President Chamberlain Thinks They Fired the Streets to Satisfy Their Spite—Loss About $5,000.

MADISON, June 12.—Fire broke out in the university gymnasium building shortly after midnight, and it was burned to the ground. The fire was undoubtedly the work of incendiaries, as there was no fire within forty rods of the place. President Chamberlain says that the fire was almost beyond a question the work of tramps. The night watch had been given special orders to watch the place, and within the last week ejected a number of them who made their rendezvous at the building. The theory that the fire is the work of students is not held by anybody connected with the university. Since the last legislature made a liberal appropriation for a new gymnasium, there would be no occasion for destroying the old one. The loss is estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000, the greater part of which is covered by insurance. Several cannon were burned.

Board of Control Made by District.

Rainey against Master Workman Wise, President Rae, Secretary Parker and other labor leaders for conspiracy. The case grew out of the coke strike.

A Nebraska Bank Falls.

OMAHA, Neb., June 12.—Bradstreet received a report Friday that the doors of the Central National bank of Broken Bow had been closed. In commercial circles the report created much surprise, in view of the long and substantial career of the institution. The deposits of the institution were the heaviest in the interior of the state. No idea can be obtained of the situation. It is said the trouble is the result of the great amount of paper the bank was carrying for farmers and business men in the surrounding country, and its inability to realize on the same in view of recent crop failures. The United States bank examiner has taken charge of the bank. Depositors will lose nothing.

STRENGTH OF THE "THIRD PARTY."

A dispatch from New York gives an estimate of the approximate strength of the farmers' alliance and the organizations affiliated with it. It appears that since the Ocala convention there has been considerable progress made by the alliance except in New England. The greatest advance has been reported in the south, but increase is reported also in the west and northwest. In the ten states of Georgia, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, Mississippi, Iowa, California, Colorado and Maryland, which are supposed to be nearly accurate figures of the alliance membership, place the number at 536,000. In thirteen other states, namely, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Tennessee, Arkansas and South Dakota the membership is given at 533,000. The estimate for Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa is from 175,000 to 200,000, adding a reasonable number for states not reported, and it will appear that the strength of the National Farmers' Alliance is something over 300,000. The Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association, whose membership is chiefly in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois has about 150,000 members, and the Patrons of Husbandry about 250,000. The Knights of Labor is in affiliation with the new movement, and numbers 300,000. The membership of these various organizations would therefore seem to be about two million, and if 20 per cent be deducted for women and minors, the voting strength is about one million six hundred thousand, or one eighth of the entire voting population of the country.

It would be a great mistake to underrate the importance, with reference to the old parties, of this large body of voters if united in a political movement. Their protest against existing conditions is unquestionably entitled to respectful attention, and no reasonable demand which they make, practicable under our system of government, should be ignored. There are few intelligent men who do not admit that some of the complaints of these citizens are valid. The fault with them is not that they complain and protest, or that they organize for the purpose of giving greater force to their demands for redress of grievances, but that they propose remedies wholly impracticable, hostile to long established principles, the wisdom of which has been amply attested. Some of the demands of the Ocala platform no party will reject, but the vital part of that declaration, which gives instinctive character to the movement, the farmers of the country are asked to support, no party that hopes to exert a permanent influence in American politics can afford to adopt.

WATCH WHERE THEY SQUIRE.

When congress advanced the tariff on wheat, barley, potatoes, and other agricultural products, the squirming among farmers was confined to the north side of the Canadian line, and every man who was hunting for facts could see it. When the decree went forth that certain lines of manufacturers should hereafter pay a higher duty than formerly, it was from Sheffield and Birmingham and Cornwall and other foreign manufacturing centers that the earliest and loudest notes of protest were wafted. Whereupon common-sense voters very properly asked themselves why these outsiders were so solicitous over the question of increase in our tariff if all difference was to be paid by the purchasers who decreed it. And the inevitable conclusion reached was that the sellers of foreign goods do not believe the theory which their friends the American free traders preach.

FACTS AHEAD OF THEORY.

Among American voters the majority is made up of men who do not make politics a profession, and these are disposed to place more reliance upon historical facts than upon fine-spun theories. They are the men who see more significance in a phenomenal national prosperity than in all the essays ever written by students without experience in practical affairs. And fortunately they are not slow in discovering the fact that there is no concurrence between the free trade contention that all tariffs are paid by the consumer and the antics of those free traders who are trying to get their wares into our markets.

A republican state convention in Ohio is generally a body of distinguished gentlemen. That of next week will contain among its delegates Senator Sherman, Secretary Foster, ex-Governor Foraker, ex-Speaker Keiser, ex-Congressman Grosvenor and others less noted but able. The convention will nominate William McKinley, Jr., for governor, and go home to elect him.

A lodge of the Knights of Reciprocity has been organized in Hastings, Nebraska, the first of the order in the state. For social purposes and for education of its members the order is all right, but if it is a secret political society it will not continue long to exist. No secret oath-bound organization can maintain its power in a free country.

Roger C. Mills is now very sorry he came out so flatly for free trade. The pretty little sentiment which took so well in his speeches nearly two years ago is now a serious obstacle in the way from Texas to the speakership.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

EX-SENATOR EDMUNDS.

Ex-Senator George Franklin Edmunds was born Feb. 1, 1823, in Richmond, Vt. His education was only such as the common schools could give, but he mastered the law early, and was admitted to practice in 1849. He began professional life in Burlington, Vt., which has ever since been his home. From 1854 to 1859 he was a member of the lower house of the state legislature. In 1861-2 he was a member of the state senate. In March, 1863, he was elected to fill the unexpired term of Senator Foote, deceased, in the United States senate. To that place he was elected five times, and his last term would have expired March 3, 1893.

Escape of Prisoners.

The report that the prisoners have been and are constantly escaping from that malignant gaoler, liver complaint, is fully corroborated by the self-liberated captives. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they say, they mean by which they get rid of their fetters. Few altogether avoid the bondage of this ailment, and few are unacquainted with its signs, viz.: Pain through the right side and shoulder blade, furred tongue, yellowness of the eyes and skin, sour breath, sick headache, dyspepsia and constipation. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters puts a prompt period to these, brings them to a full stop in short order. Whether the trouble is chronic or temporary, this medicine is equally effective, regulating the liver and bowels thoroughly. It is likewise a sovereign remedy for rheumatism, kidney complaint, malaria, heartburn and nervousness.

A Probable Murder.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Edward Smythe, an employee of the Le Grand Tailoring Company, was found at 1 o'clock a. m. Friday in an unconscious condition in a doorway at 104 Quincy street. He was taken to a police station and died a few minutes after being looked up. The police are of the opinion that the case will prove to be one of murder, resulting from a saloon row. Three men, supposed to be implicated in the crime, are under arrest and more arrests are expected to follow.

Two Miners Killed.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—A special to the Republic from Joplin, Mo., says Lewis Davis and Thomas Hughes were instantly killed at Belleville, 6 miles from here. They were working in the Buckeye shaft and had nearly reached the surface of the earth when the tub became detached and they were precipitated to the bottom of the mine, a distance of 117 feet.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Nessell, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklin's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large feversores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklin's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at W. T. Sherer & Co's drugstore.

Michigan Legislature.

LANSING, Mich., June 13.—The house has passed the senate bill repealing all specific taxes on mines and providing that hereafter they shall be taxed locally the same as other property. The state last year realized about $75,000 from taxing the mines specifically, but the counties got little. The bill also repeals the law which exempted from state taxes 640 acres for each mining company. The conference committee reported a substitute for the congressional gerrymander. It makes changes from the bill which passed the house only in the proposed Second and Sixth districts.

After living with his wife for fifteen years in his cozy home in Horsham township, Montgomery county, Pa., without speaking a word to her in all that time, Henry Knott has mysteriously disappeared.

WHAT STATE EDITORS SAY.

Endorsement For the Journal.

Ashland Press: The Milwaukee Journal is getting more foolish in its utterances every day. "A strong government never fits free people," says the Journal. Jeff Davis used to say the same thing. The anarchists who gave Milwaukee such trouble a few years ago were firm believers in that doctrine.

Work For a Geneva Officer.

Geneva News: In advertising for an insane woman, the marshal of Beloit states that she "wore black hose, side elastics, red flannel combination suit, white flannel vest." Under-Sheriff Foster is looking for some woman that answers this description.

Campaign Promises Are Weak.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The anti-prohibition society is not entitled to much sympathy, even if members of the legislature did "violate pledges made to that society in the campaign." A candidate for office who, to obtain the votes of the society, would pledge himself to anything whatever, is not a man to be counted on.

OUT OF THE SERVICE.

Sir William Gordon Cumming Expelled from the Army.

LONDON, June 13.—The fate of Sir William Gordon Cumming is sealed, as far as his army is concerned, for the following paragraph is published in the Official Gazette:

"WAR OFFICE, June 13, 1891.—Sir William Gordon Cumming is removed from the army, his majesty having no further occasion for his services."

June 10, 1891.

The storm rising round the prince of Wales is fast obtaining intensity, endangering his chances of succession to the throne, if not the existence of the English monarchy. No class appears to be stirred so deeply as the great middle class, the real strength of the country and hitherto a solid and stolid prop of the monarchy. Wherever the voice becomes audible its earnest denunciations of the prince of Wales are accompanied by regrets at his nearness to the throne. Representative gatherings of religious bodies—Congregational, Methodist, Baptist, Unitarian and Presbyterian—have already recorded their condemnations. Boards of guardians are going out of their accustomed paths to discuss motions branding the gambling propensities of the prince of Wales as a disgrace to the country. Several liberal societies have adopted protests against his continuance in the army. The agitation has every character of permanence. It has not yet touched more than a fringe of the political parties, but ere long the glowing fierceness of the popular heat must penetrate to the core of politics, causing party action within and without parliament.

It is understood that the prince of Wales is keenly stung at the adverse press criticisms which have been showered upon him from all quarters. Especially is this the case in regard to the newspaper comments which practically accuse him of revealing the secret of the Tranby Croft scandal, and referring to the fact that he, the prince of Wales, was not asked if he had spoken of the affair to anybody, after Sir William Gordon-Cumming signed the incriminating document, while this question was put to all the other witnesses for the defendants. The prince of Wales emphatically denies that he divulged the secret to anybody.

In the house of commons on Monday next Mr. William Summers (liberal), member for Huddersfield, and Mr. H. Peyton Cobb (radical non-conformist), member of the Rugby division of Warwickshire, will question Mr. Hon. Edward Stanhope, secretary of state for war, as to what action he intends to take in regard to the three officers (Field Marshal the Prince of Wales, Gen. Owen Williams and Lieut. Berkeley Levett, of the Scotch Fusilier guards) who signed the document which practically allowed Sir William Gordon-Cumming to remain an officer of the British army, although he was believed to have cheated at cards, and as to what action he intends to take in regard to the same officers for having broken the army regulations requiring that such a case as the one which occurred at Tranby Croft in September last should be brought to the notice of the commanding officers.

The radical members of the house of commons are opening the attack on the prince of Wales, but they have been warned that Mr. Gladstone resents the movement and that the leaders of the movement will actively show their repugnance to associating liberalism with an agitation tending to cast discredit on the crown. A group of radicals, meeting after Cumming's dismissal from the army was gazetted, concurred in the opinion that the leaders had mistaken the feeling of the nation; that even on party grounds it was impossible to neglect the duty to take the sense of parliament on the position of the prince of Wales and the others concerned. The radicals will not be content with anything less than action by the military authorities involving the same official reproof of the prince of Wales, Gen. Williams and Levett. The prosecution of Cumming and the others for illegal gambling will be made a part of the demand on the government, but it will not be earnestly pressed.

Conferences have been held at the war office attended by Mr. Stanhope, the duke of Cambridge, the duke of Connaught, Gen. Redvers Buller and Col. Stracey, and it is reported that they have decided that the prince of Wales, Gen. Williams and Levett have committed no offense against military law, but only a technical breach of the regulations. Mr. Stanhope, therefore, basing Monday's response to questions on the decision of the conference, will probably declare that the commander in chief will deal with the case privately without regard to regulations.

Court circles are much excited over letters from the German court reflecting the opinion of Emperor William. It is believed that the emperor has written the queen a long and serious criticism on the prince's life, and dilating especially upon the gambling of officers, as a grave offense to military honor and made worse by the signing of a paper permitting a colonel of the guards convicted of cheating to retain his commission in the army. The queen, it is said, forwarded the letter to the prince of Wales.

Three Were Killed.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 13.—A coal train of twenty-five cars, while coming down a mountain on the Pennsylvania & Northwestern railway, got beyond the control of the trainmen and was wrecked. The conductor, engineer and brakemen were killed.

BARDSEY'S THEFT.

His Holdings Now Amount to Something Over $2,000,000.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—Another startling discovery of Bardsey's stealing as city treasurer was made Friday. The auditing committee, appointed by the mayor, found that in addition to his embezzlement of over $1,300,000 of the state's money Bardsey stole $45,428 of school funds paid to him by the state treasurer for the year ended June 30, 1891. This is a loss to the city, which, added to the lost money locked up in the two broken banks, will aggregate a total loss to the city of $1,300,000 and to the state of $1,300,000, in all $2,600,000 so far as discovered. This school money was a part of the annual appropriation made by the state to the city of Philadelphia as its pro rata share of the state school fund. This money was paid to Bardsey in various amounts from March, 1889, until December, 1890, and should have at once been paid into the city treasury. It does not represent any part of the $900,000 which Bardsey claims to have paid into the Keystone bank and for which he holds Marsh's debt bills. What he did with this nearly half a million he adds to the astonishing mystery surrounding his gigantic robbery. It is not supposed that Bardsey has even told his counsel of this school fund stealing.

The investigating committee of the councils met Friday afternoon, and John R. Read, United States district attorney, appeared before it and made a personal explanation of his course in acting as attorney for the Keystone bank as a member of the law firm of Read & Pettit. State Auditor-General Shapley read a statement in which it was shown that there was still due the state from licensees, municipal loans and state taxes a personal property collected by John Bardsey for the year 1890 a total of $815,715.

Ex-Director of Public Works L. E. Wagner was on the stand and was asked what he knew about the Spring Garden bank. Gen. Wagner, who before he was approached on the subject of the presidency of the bank was a candidate for the reversion of the bank, testified that when he first went to the bank on the subject of the presidency he said to Bank Examiner Drew that he understood that the reversion of the bank had been settled, and that it was to be Nelson P. Evans, president of the Spring Garden Insurance Company and director of the Spring Garden bank. Gen. Wagner also added that he understood that Mr. Wanamaker was backing Mr. Evans for the position. In reply Mr. Drew said to Gen. Wagner: "I think you are mistaken. Mr. Wanamaker has nothing to do with it. Now that explains something I did not understand. Assistant Secretary Nettleton is a great friend of Evans, and he is probably backing him for the position. It also explains some accounts of the Spring Garden I did not understand, where Nettleton appears as a large borrower." Gen. Wagner said that he had since looked in the papers for the name of Assistant Secretary Nettleton as one of the debtors of the bank, but had not seen it.

W. P. Drew, the national bank examiner, was seen in regard to the statement attributed to him by Gen. Wagner that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Nettleton was a large borrower of the Spring Garden bank. When first asked if he had made such a statement to Gen. Wagner, Col. Drew said it was absolutely false, that he had never told Gen. Wagner such a thing. Col. Drew afterward withdrew his sweeping denial and qualified it by saying that he had no recollection of having said anything on the subject, but still it was possible that Gen. Wagner's memory was better than his and he therefore would neither deny nor affirm it.

The supreme court has decided that the city council did not have the right to select the successor to City Treasurer Bardsey. Richard G. Oellers is thus ousted from the office and the appointment of W. Redwood Wright by Gov. Pattison is sustained. Attorney General Howell has decided to abandon the commonwealth's claim against Bardsey and look to the city and county of Philadelphia for all moneys due to the state treasurer. The amount representing the taxes of 1891 is about $1,000,000 without reference to 1890.

Another arrest has been made in connection with the scandal. Friday afternoon H. H. Yard, the former partner of President Lucas, deceased, of the Keystone bank, in the seaside speculations, was captured in Trenton, N. J. Yard was given a hearing on the indictment charging him with conspiracy to mislead the public funds, and was released on $10,000 pending the requisition proceedings against him. Application will be made to Gov. Abbott for the requisition, and as it is granted Yard will be brought here.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The attention of Mr. Nettleton, the assistant secretary of the treasury, was called to the testimony of Gen. L. E. Wagner before the council's committee of Philadelphia investigating the bank scandal. After reading it Mr. Nettleton said: "I never 'backed' Mr. Nelson P. Evans or any other person as a candidate for the reversion of the suspended Keystone bank of Philadelphia. I suggested his name simply because he had known him long and believed him every way fit. I have borrowed no money from the Spring Garden bank but it is probable that certain accommodation notes on which I am responsible are in that institution. If so I am simply among the losers by the bank's failure, which I regret."

A Gift from the Czar.

The collection is valued at about $35,000 and comprises some 800 specimens. Mrs. Stanford will in return send the czar a collection of California minerals and precious stones.

HE GOT TWO YEARS.

Fred Tutton Sentenced for Stealing His Friend's Money.

FLIGHT ON FOOT TO EVANSVILLE.

Norwegian Accented Didn't Save Him—Marshall Acheson Jumps from a Car—House and Stops the Car Just Outside the Village.

For breaking open his room-mate's trunk, and therefrom taking $140 in gold and two gold watches, Fred Tutton will serve two years at hard labor in Waupun.

The crime was committed yesterday morning, soon after breakfast. At Mrs. Aldrich's boarding house on Madison street, the property was stolen belonging to Charles Mansfield, a fellow room-mate, and also a student in the telegraph school.

Although the money and watches were found early in the morning, as detailed in the Gazette last evening, Mansfield did not miss his valuables until he went to his boarding house for supper.

Tutton was brought into the municipal court this morning, and after consultation with G. G. Sutherland, the attorney named for him by the marshal, he pleaded guilty and received the above sentence. He was taken to Waupun this afternoon.

His Flight to Evansville.

Tutton escaped from Marshall Acheson yesterday morning, and was recaptured last evening in Evansville and brought back and lodged in jail at midnight. He tried to play a sharp game, but lacked ability to carry it through. After deceiving the marshal yesterday morning, he returned to his boarding house, and at 3 o'clock started out on foot, going towards the depot. The officers mistrusted he had gone towards Evansville, and at 7:30 Marshall Acheson went out to that village on a fast freight. Passing a deep cut near the village, he noticed a man walking along on the bank, and as soon as the train slowed up at the depot the marshal got off and went back to meet the man. They met at the little creek just this side of the village.

"What are you doing here?" said the marshal.

"Not much of a Norwegian."

"Ay-lee by Mister Overstrud," said the stranger with a strong Norwegian accent. "Ay been working on his farm just a little ways back."

"What is your name?"

"Iverson."

Acheson closed up on him and recognized the man on the one he had in custody early in the morning.

"What is the use of your lying in that way," he said. Your name is Fred Tutton, and you are the man I am after. Come along with me," and the two walked back to the depot.

Tutton admitted his identity, but stoutly denied that the money was taken by him. Another boarder took it, he said, and promised him forty dollars. He was not given but twenty, however, and knowing where the money was hid went to get it in the lumber yard.

Says He Didn't Take the Money.

"My home is in Jones, Cass county, Michigan," he answered when a Gazette reporter questioned him this morning. "My folks live there, but I have not been home for some time. I came to Janesville last January, and entered the school of telegraphy. I know nothing about taking money from Mansfield's trunk."

Tutton is of medium size, black hair, thin face and complexion rather dark, perhaps a little tanned, and is probably about twenty-five years old. He is not a hard looking man, by any means.

Other Valuables Have Been Taken.

Charles Mansfield, whose trunk was robbed at Mrs. Aldrich's boarding house, says he had seven $20 gold pieces and two watches taken. The watches and five of the gold pieces were recovered by little Nellie Carlson, who saw Tutton deposit them under the lumber pile. The other two pieces of gold had not been found.

Other students of the telegraph school say they have lost small sums of money at various times, but had no suspicions that Tutton was the thief.

WANT FIREWORKS AT NIGHT.

Citizens Meet and Discuss Fourth of July Arrangements.

There was an enthusiastic, although somewhat excited gathering of citizens last evening in the council chamber making arrangements for the proper celebration of the Fourth of July.

Dr. Henry Palmer was elected permanent president, John C. Spencer, permanent secretary and Cyrus Miner, treasurer. The east side canvassing committee reported that they had raised $320, and the west side committee $425, the greater portion of which has been paid in, and the amount could be increased.

A general committee of arrangements was then appointed, consisting of six members, with F. M. Marzluft as chairman, as follows: F. M. Marzluft, J. F. Sweeney, J. B. McLean, Robert M. Bestwick, H. V. Allen, H. E. Merrill. The committee was empowered to arrange full details for the celebration.

On motion of Cyrus Miner, the committee was directed to arrange the holding of all the exercises day and evening, within the business radius of the city.

Captain W. T. Vankirk moved that the committee arrange for fireworks in the evening, stating that he made this motion rather to get the use of the meeting than to instruct the committee. The motion was adopted.

THE GHOST DANCE.

In the Forepaugh and wild west exhibition, which is shortly to appear here, a band of genuine Sioux Indians present the wild and weird ghost dance in precisely the same manner that it was performed by infatuated red skins on our frontier preceding their recent uprising.
